COUNT ONE

(Racketeering Conspiracy: Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization)

The Grand Jury charges:

The Enterprise

1. At all times relevant to this Indictment, ALIMZHAN TOKHTAKHOUNOV, a/k/a "Taiwanchik," a/k/a "Alik," VADIM TRINCHER, a/k/a "Dima," ANATOLY GOLUBCHIK, a/k/a "Tony," MICHAEL SALL, and STAN GREENBERG, a/k/a "Slava," the defendants, and others known and unknown, were members and associates of the "Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization." The Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization was a criminal organization whose members and associates engaged in crimes including operating an illegal gambling business, money laundering, and extortion.

2. The Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization, including its leadership, membership, and associates, constituted an "enterprise," as that term is defined in Title 18, United States Code, Section 1961(4) -- that is, a group of individuals associated in fact. This enterprise was engaged in, and its activities affected, interstate and foreign commerce. The Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization was an international organized crime group with leadership based in New York City, Kiev, and Moscow, and that operated throughout the United States, including in the Southern District of New York, and internationally. The Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization constituted an ongoing organization whose members functioned as a continuing unit for a common purpose of achieving the objectives of the enterprise.

3. Most members and associates of the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization were born in the former Soviet Union and many maintained substantial ties to Ukraine and the Russian Federation, including regular travel to Ukraine and the Russian Federation, criminal connections to individuals residing in Ukraine and the Russian Federation, the transfer of criminal proceeds to and from Ukraine and the Russian Federation, the purchase of real estate and other assets in Ukraine and the Russian Federation with criminal proceeds, and the operation of an international gambling business in Ukraine and the former Soviet Union.

4. The Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization was led principally by three individuals: ALIMZHAN TOKHTAKHOUNOV, a/k/a "Taiwanchik," a/k/a "Alik," VADIM TRINCHER, a/k/a "Dima," and ANATOLY GOLUBCHIK, a/k/a "Tony," the defendants.

5. ALIMZHAN TOKHTAKHOUNOV, a/k/a "Taiwanchik," a/k/a "Alik," the defendant, who lived in the Russia Federation, was a "vory v zakone," commonly referred to as "Vor" -- a Russian term translated as "Thief-in-Law" and referring to a member of a select group of the highest-level criminal figures from the former Soviet Union who receives tribute from other criminals, offers protection, and uses his recognized position of authority to resolve disputes among criminals. As a Vor, TOKHTAKHOUNOV had substantial influence in the criminal underworld and offered assistance to and protection of the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization.

6. The two other leaders of the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization, VADIM TRINCHER, a/k/a "Dima," and ANATOLY GOLUBCHIK, a/k/a "Tony," the defendants, were based in New York City. TRINCHER and GOLUBCHIK were the principal, though not exclusive, leaders of the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization's criminal conduct and ventures, which included an illegal gambling business, money laundering, extortion, and other crimes. TRINCHER and GOLUBCHIK were assisted by numerous criminal partners and associates throughout the United States, Ukraine, the Russian Federation, and elsewhere.

The Defendants

7. Vor ALIMZHAN TOKHTAKHOUNOV, a/k/a "Taiwanchik," a/k/a "Alik," the defendant, was a powerful figure in former Soviet Union organized crime. TOKHTAKHOUNOV rarely left the former Soviet Union because he was under indictment by the United States Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York on charges related to his role in allegedly bribing officials at the 2002 Winter Olympic Games in Salt Lake City, Utah. TOKHTAKHOUNOV was a participant in the enterprise, the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization, and was a leader of it. TOKHTAKHOUNOV used his status as a Vor to resolve disputes with clients of the high-stakes illegal gambling operation with implicit and sometimes explicit threats of violence and economic harm. From in or around December 2011 through in or about January 2012, TOKHTAKHOUNOV was paid $10,000,000 by the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization.

8. VADIM TRINCHER, a/k/a "Dima," the defendant, was a participant in the enterprise, the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization, and was a leader of it. In that capacity, TRINCHER participated in and profited from various crimes, which he committed along with other members and associates of the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization. Among other things, TRINCHER oversaw a high-stakes illegal sports gambling business that catered almost exclusively to oligarchs living in Ukraine and the Russian Federation.

9. ANATOLY GOLUBCHIK, a/k/a "Tony," the defendant, was a participant in the enterprise, the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization, and was a leader of the enterprise. In that capacity, GOLUBCHIK participated in and profited from various crimes, which he committed along with other members and associates of the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization. Among other things, GOLUBCHIK worked with TRINCHER to oversee the sports gambling business and directed members and associates of the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization in laundering tens of millions of dollars of profits from that business.

10. MICHAEL SALL and STAN GREENBERG, a/k/a "Slava," the defendants, were United States-based participants in the enterprise, the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization. In this capacity, these defendants participated in and profited from various crimes, including money laundering, which they committed along with other members and associates of the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization.

Purposes of the Enterprise

11. The purposes of the enterprise included the following:

- a. enriching the leaders, members, and associates of the enterprise through an illegal gambling business, money laundering, extortion, and other crimes;
- b. preserving and augmenting the power, territory, and financial profits of the enterprise through intimidation, violence, and threats of physical and economic harm; and
- c. avoiding detection of their illegal conduct in order to continue to enrich themselves.

Means and Methods of the Enterprise

12. Among the means and methods by which ALIMZHAN TOKHTAKHOUNOV, a/k/a "Taiwanchik," a/k/a "Alik," VADIM TRINCHER, a/k/a "Dima," ANATOLY GOLUBCHIK, a/k/a "Tony," MICHAEL SALL, and STAN GREENBERG, a/k/a "Slava," the defendants, and their co-conspirators, and other members and associates conducted and participated in the conduct of the affairs of the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization were the following:

- a. Members and associates of the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization and their co-conspirators worked together on a range of criminal money-making schemes, including operating an international gambling business that catered to oligarchs residing in the former Soviet Union and throughout the world.

b. Members and associates of the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization and their co-conspirators used threats of violence to obtain unpaid gambling debts from clients.

c. Members and associates of the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization and their co-conspirators employed a sophisticated money laundering scheme to move tens of millions of dollars in proceeds from the gambling operation from the former Soviet Union through shell companies in Cyprus into various investments and other shell companies in the United States.

The Racketeering Conspiracy

From at least in or about 2006, up to and including on or about the date of this Indictment, ALIMZHAN TOKHTAKHOUNOV, a/k/a "Taiwanchik," a/k/a "Alik," VADIM TRINCHER, a/k/a "Dima," ANATOLY GOLUBCHIK, a/k/a "Tony," MICHAEL SALL, and STAN GREENBERG, a/k/a "Slava," the defendants, and others known and unknown, in the Southern District of New York and elsewhere, being persons employed by and associated with the racketeering enterprise described in paragraphs 1 through 12 above, namely, the Taiwanchik-Trincher Organization, which enterprise was engaged in, and the activities of which affected, interstate and foreign commerce, willfully and knowingly combined, conspired, confederated, and agreed together and with each other to violate Title 18, United States Code, Section 1962(c), to wit, to conduct and participate, directly and indirectly, in the conduct of such enterprise's affairs through a pattern of racketeering activity, as those terms are defined in Title 18, United States Code, Sections 1961(1) and 1961(5), and as set forth below in paragraph 14. It was further a part of the conspiracy that the defendants agreed that a conspirator would commit at least two acts of racketeering activity in the conduct of the affairs of the enterprise.

The Pattern of Racketeering

14. The pattern of racketeering activity, as defined in Title 18, United States Code, Sections 1961(1) and 1961(5), through which ALIMZHAN TOKHTAKHOUNOV, a/k/a "Taiwanchik," a/k/a "Alik," VADIM TRINCHER, a/k/a "Dima," ANATOLY GOLUBCHIK, a/k/a "Tony," MICHAEL SALL, and STAN GREENBERG, a/k/a "Slava," the defendants, and their co-conspirators agreed to conduct and participate in the conduct of the affairs of the enterprise consisted of multiple acts indictable under the following federal and state statutes:

f. Title 18, United States Code, Section 894 (collection of extensions of credit by extortionate means); and

g. Multiple acts involving gambling, in violation of New York Penal Law Section 225.10.

It was further a part of the conspiracy that the defendants agreed that a conspirator would commit at least two acts of racketeering activity in the conduct of the affairs of the enterprise.

(Title 18, United States Code, Section 1962(d).)

COUNT THREE

(Racketeering Conspiracy: Nahmad-Trincher Organization)

The Grand Jury further charges:

The Enterprise

25. At all times relevant to this Indictment, ILLYA TRINCHER, HILLEL NAHMAD, a/k/a "Helly," NOAH SIEGEL, a/k/a "The Oracle," JOHN HANSON, JONATHAN HIRSCH, ARTHUR AZEN, and DONALD MCCALMONT, the defendants, and others known and unknown, were members and associates of the "Nahmad-Trincher Organization." The Nahmad-Trincher Organization was an organized crime group with leadership based in New York City and Los Angeles, and that operated throughout the United States, including in the Southern District of New York, and internationally. The Nahmad-Trincher Organization constituted an ongoing organization whose members functioned as a continuing unit for a common purpose of achieving the objectives of the enterprise.

27. The criminal conduct of the Nahmad-Trincher Organization was directed principally, though not exclusively, by its leaders: ILLYA TRINCHER, son of VADIM TRINCHER, a/k/a "Dima," HILLEL NAHMAD, a/k/a "Helly," and NOAH SIEGEL, a/k/a "The Oracle," the defendants, who were based in New York City. ILLYA TRINCHER, NAHMAD, and SIEGEL worked together to lead multiple related criminal ventures including an illegal gambling business, money laundering, and other crimes. TRINCHER, NAHMAD, and SIEGEL were assisted by numerous criminal partners and associates throughout the United States, Europe, and elsewhere.
